MUHS Digital Library is a progressive & innovative initiative to create an environment of affordable research for its constituent colleges. It has been set up with a vision to help the nursing and dental colleges of the state with a digital library comprising of internationally renowned e-journals. This is a unique initiative where, only the colleges which have expressed their desire to have access to this world class e-library with latest technological tools have joined. The doors are open for other colleges under MUHS to join this initiative at any point of time by registering themselves with the MUHS Coordinator. The content is being delivered thru a world class platform and made accessible via a most secured remote login solution, where each user of each campus accesses the content thru a unique Single Sign On facility.

The digital resources available in a library play prominent role in facilitating access to the required information to the user in an expeditious manner. Further one need not go to the library to make use of print formats as the digital resources can be made use of by any user through On-line access via networks or authentication methods at any time by comfortably. Now web-based electronic resources have become most popular tools in academic research.

Electronic Resources is one of the emerging environment in libraries & Information communication in the competitive service. E-Resources usually consist of e-books, e-Journals, articles, newspaper, thesis, dissertation, databases and CD-ROMs, which are likely to be the alternative to the print media. Emerald, Ebsco, Scopus are some of the examples of online databases. All updated information is published in these e-resources. The familiarity and use of electronic information resources in the libraries for rapid development is necessary and important.

The aim of this study is to identify how electronic information resources are utilized by academic library users and specific trends that can be seen among faculties and students. Further the study also examines the use pattern, acceptance, perceived importance and satisfaction on electronic resources over print resources.

Objectives:

1. To assess the amount of familiarity and frequency in the use of the different types of electronic resources.
2. To find the purpose and utilization of the electronic resources and services by the users.
3. To know the level of satisfaction on current e-resources.
4. To know the difficulties encountered by the users while using e-resources.

In a groundbreaking collaboration, the Maharashtra University of Health Sciences (MUHS), OpenAthens, and EBSCO have joined together to revolutionize the way students, researchers, and academics access information and conduct their studies. This joint venture aims to provide a seamless, unified search experience through a state-of-the-art website and an innovative authentication service, enhancing the efficiency and effectiveness of research across various disciplines.

The Vision

The core vision of this joint venture is to create a one-stop hub for academic research, where users can access a wide range of resources across diverse fields of study. The goal is to streamline the research process, making it more efficient, user-friendly, and secure than ever before.

Benefits

Efficiency: Researchers can save valuable time by accessing a wide range of resources from a single platform, streamlining the research process.

Quality: The collaboration with EBSCO guarantees access to high-quality academic content, enabling researchers to access reputable and relevant sources.

Security: OpenAthens' authentication service ensures secure access, protecting sensitive information while simplifying the login process.

This joint venture between MUHS, OpenAthens, and EBSCO represents a significant step forward in the world of academic research, providing a unified, efficient, and secure experience for scholars, students, and faculty. The brand-new website and state-of-the-art authentication service are set to redefine how research is conducted, ultimately advancing the pursuit of knowledge across various disciplines.
